

ANDORRA 2008 Kit List

To help make sure you've got everything!

Firstly, there are a few things to consider about Andorra itself.

- ▶ The tap water is drinkable, the locals are fine with it, but this has only relatively recently become the case so we tend to trust bottled water more for drinking.
- ▶ Andorra is one of only 6 countries in the world that does not have a Scout Association, probably because it's simply too small. This does not at all affect your included Winter Sports Scout Travel Insurance while we're there.

FOR SKIING:

- Your Skis, Board, Ski Boots, Poles (if you have them)
- Salopettes / Ski Trousers / Ski Suit
- Ski Jacket
- Goggles and Sunglasses
- Sunblock & Lipsalve
- Gloves, must be waterproof
- Warm Hat & Scarf
- Ski Socks (at least two pairs, please!)

- ▶ All these are available easily from high street shops or the internet. However, it is well worth a visit to a dry ski slope near you to have a look in their shop for the proper gear so you get a better idea of what is available & what sort of items & styles suit you best.

FOR LIVING:

- Warm clothes, including:
 - Jumpers / fleece tops
 - Base layers, thermals, T-shirts
 - Long Johns
 - Underwear & normal socks
 - Personal First Aid Kit
 - Watch (for timekeeping - there's no clocks on the mountains)
 - Network Top and uniform shirt
 - Camera
 - Walking Boots, socks, etc. if you'd like to do any hiking
- Wash Kit
- Deodorant, shower gel, shampoo
- Towel
- Sturdy shoes / trainers
- Trousers / jeans for off the slopes
- Smart casual top(s) for evenings
- Small torch, always a good idea
- UK Scarf & Network / Group Scarf
- Day rucksack
- Fancy Dress (for our dress up days!)

ESSENTIALS:

- Passport
